FREIGHTLINER TRUCKS HONORS FIRST HARDEST WORKING CITY

The Freightliner Trucks Hardest Working Cities program launched at the NTEA Work Truck Show in Indianapolis on March 4, 2015, with a press event naming Indianapolis as the first recognized city. Freightliner Trucks recognizes the dynamic role vocational trucks and the men and women behind them play in stimulating economies throughout the United States and Canada.

CUSTOMER-FOCUSED FINANCING FOR FREIGHTLINER TRUCKS

Holcombe Energy Resource, one of Pennsylvania’s largest oil and gas service providers, was founded in 2009 by Matthew Austin with only $8,000. Austin was inspired to launch Holcombe at the start of the oil boom and credits much of his success to support from the local community and finding a partner to help finance key equipment needs.
